Black Wind Ep.2 Scarlet Letter is

As you know, scarlet letter means "Scarlet Letter". (Korean to English)

The witches that come out in shows or fantasies always use their magic and flight.
But there are instances in history where there were such things as 'witch hunts'.

So the present we call 'hearing someone for a crime and making them a sinner' witch hunting.
It's not much different from what happened in the past.

I was wondering what would happen if I put this element of witch hunting into a Fantasy webtoon and this is what came up because of it.

The 'scarlet letter' that is given to Jeanne in the form of the same 'traitor' is what makes the different characters have different attitudes towards her. I wrote this second episode wondering if the readers would change their attitudes towards Jeanne as they read the webtoon.

I wonder how Jeanne's appearance will change because of the word "traitor"... I was kind of curious...;;

My characters talked a lot in the story...

I tried to shorten their conversations while writing the story.

But it's very hard to write your views in just a short sentence, and I didn't want to write a sort of guidebook in order to tell you that "this here, is like this". I would rather have the readers learn about all this through what the characters say and their actions.

Although the story is based off of reality, my views are different so I think learning about the people in the story, listening to them converse and looking at their actions is almost like going on a vacation to a different place and learning about the culture there.

Woohyunkaka the character that symbolizes myself is like a normal person that is suddenly thrown into a Fantasy world.

So I make another Elf 'S' shorten the speeches of the characters but I still hope I'll be able to let the readers learn about the world the story takes place in through the speech and actions of my characters. ^ ^;

The terms used throughout the story are

They are words that are taken from real events or words used in order to explain the scenario.

Savant Syndrome is a medical term that I used

Although the two terms are not really related, it symbolizes my idea that lacking something or being imperfect is actually better than being a perfect being.

Bloody Rain is a word that came from elsewhere but it is saying that there is red rain falling from the sky. I'll say more about it in the next EP

Nanka's name is from the word Nanzca Line, to tell the truth, I wanted to use a Nazca line as the background when Nanka is crying about Kyle but it didn't work so I never got to. I wanted to make it seem as if "You don't know where this is from but it is something incredible".

All of this was used to make the webtoon more interesting and so real other meaning than that.

In some scenes...

In the scene without clothing
I was actually thinking of making that scene black and white but I had a lot of scenes with Castle (laptop) and so I made it in color But when I finished I thought to myself "Oh...what..." Because with color it looked very sexual...The reason was because of the color.

Even though I meant that scene to be black and white, I hope that none of the readers felt uncomfortable during that scene.

I thought I was thinking a little too much but it seems it was kind of exaggerated.

I'll seems I'll have to think about what to do in these situations more often.

I have raised a cactus before...

When I first saw a cactus
The only thing that popped into my mind was a desert so it first sort of shrank. But, suddenly, it was so beautiful, I couldn't take my eyes off of it. That was when the cactus had a little red flower blooming from the top.

Every minute, every second being there to see the little flower that was trying to bloom made me very happy.
The cactus was also probably happy that I was watching it work so hard. You understand once you see that beautiful little flower.

I don't know if it was really that pretty but...
I thank all you readers for watching this cactus flower try it's best to bloom

There's a lot of EPs here that I see commenting often, but I won't list them since I'm afraid I might leave out someone T^T

Thanks to all the people that cheered me, a stranger on.

Special Thanks to..

There was a time when I was about to give up because of physical and mental pain but Neo Crohnson and Jongni both helped me get back on and continue and I would like to thank those two.

I would also like to thank Park YP who made it possible for me to make an EP2 and Han YP who was always by my side.

I don't know when I'll be able to say this again but I'll like you to know that this was a really fun experience.
